Liberal Labor Lies: Election Countdown

October 29, 2004

Every day between now and the election, a new liberal labor lie will be exposed. On election day, ordinary workers can make a choice. They can support pro-union positions that don't represent their values or their interests, or they can vote in favor of worker freedom.

Liberal Labor Lie of the Day: School choice is anti-teacher and would drain dollars from the classroom. Only right-wing nuts support school choice.

FACT: According to a December 2000 poll by the Feldmann Group, 61% of National Education Association teachers do not want the NEA to speak out against school choice. These are the same teachers the NEA claims to be protecting from the ravages of accountability and results.

Unions are supposed to focus on getting the best workplace deals for workers. Instead, they spend their time fighting political battles their own members don't even support. Workers need to speak their minds and take back their workplace rights from union bosses.
